

La Valise — design Ronan & Erwan Bouroullec, 2003
Technical Sheet

La Valise was the first product designed by the French duo for Magis, marking the beginning of a fruitful, long-term collaboration.

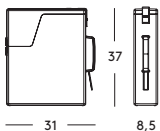

This interesting design object is made of standard injection-moulded ABS, and was created as a filing case to slot onto a bookshelf, as well as serving as an original briefcase, as its name suggests.

All in all, a very versatile product that will blend in with any setting, from the home to the office.

Designers

Ronan & Erwan Bouroullec

Ronan and Erwan Bouroullec have been working together for about ten years now. Their collaboration is a permanent dialogue, nourished by their distinct personalities and a shared notion of diligence, with the intention to achieve greater balance and refinement. The Bouroullecs have been working with Magis since 2004, designing two complete furniture collections as well as other projects. These days, Ronan and Erwan Bouroullec design for numerous manufacturers and they also continue to carry out their own experimental activity which is essential to the development of their work at Galerie Kreo, Paris, where four exhibitions of their designs were held between 2001 and 2012. They also embark on occasional architectural projects.
