

MAGIS

Profile

For more than 40 years we have been creating design products for people's homes, offices and public spaces. Magis was founded in 1976 in Northern Italy, and since then we have developed to become a global design player staying true to our core value: pushing the boundaries of design.

We are constantly searching for novel ideas, new design languages and innovative production methods. Consequently, our product portfolio is wide-ranging, from the pure to the expressive. Some might say Magis is eclectic. We say yes, we are. Because uncompromising design requires freedom.

Each of our design projects has to meet the highest standards. A Magis product needs to be handsome and functional, and it needs to embody a strong idea. Anything else would be easy and ordinary: not the Magis way at all.

As a family owned business, we believe in the strength of family values. We help each other and we grow together, striving to build long-lasting and beneficial relationships with our employees, customers and partners.

To strengthen our community, we produce in Italy. That is our contribution to help preserve the exceptional craftsmanship our region has been known for down the centuries. In return, each Magis product is created to the highest possible quality, reflecting the remarkable skills and knowledge of our partners.

In order to fulfil our visions, we always search for exceptional design talents. Many of them have become internationally famous along the way. Designers like Jasper Morrison, Konstantin Grcic, Philippe Starck, Ronan & Erwan Bouroullec and Jerszy Seymour have been with us for a long time. Today we consider them more than partners. They are part of the Magis family.
